Fred M. & Anita Bruni Community Center had their Back to School fair on Friday, August 21st, just in time for the first day of school. The center set up a various amounts of booths for several organizations. Constable Tino Juarez department provided fingerprinting for the children which is a great method to document your children's identity.

Connie Chavarria from City of Laredo was handing out information for the 911 Department as well as some gifts for the kids. Perla Sanchez from Webb County Sheriff's Martin Cuellar also gave out baskets filled with school supplies. Cool Smiles set up a booth that gave information of their dental services as well as made appointments. In addition, UISD Gang Prevention Unit was also in attendance to provide essential information on how to avoid and stay out of gangs.

Texas A&M Colonias program donated backpacks filled with school supplies to all the kids in Peñitas. As a bonus, we gave away bags filled with reading and workbooks. As we handed them out the kids were surprised to have received an abundance of gifts.

The school fair was an all day event in which lunch was provided to everyone who was present. We served Hot Dogs, Frito Pies, nachos, chips, soft drinks and bottled water. We were so pleased to see all the smiles on the kids and parents faces. We hope to continue these kinds of events in which we helped so many families in Peñitas. We would also like to Thank all the organizations that helped make this event such a success.
